

ServSafe Alcohol Program Roll-Out Guidelines:

Maine

In Maine, responsible alcohol service training is voluntary. ServSafe Alcohol™ is approved in Maine for mitigation benefits. To qualify, the ServSafe Alcohol course must include the Maine supplement. Approved ServSafe Alcohol instructors can download the Maine supplement at <https://www.servsafe.com/Instructors-Proctors/ServSafe-Alcohol-Print-Supplements-and-Exams>.

Mitigating benefit: Certification of staff in a responsible alcohol service training program may be considered a mitigating benefit. Please contact the Department of Public Safety, Division of Liquor Licensing and Compliance, for more information.

To qualify for a Maine alcohol server instructor's certificate, an instructor must:

- Attend a seminar on Maine liquor laws provided by the bureau before teaching the approved course in the state.
- Attend a seminar on Maine liquor laws provided by the bureau every other year.
- Apply for a certificate for the approved course to be instructed.
- Submit a letter to the bureau from the course provider acknowledging that the instructor is in good standing to teach the approved course.

To be recertified as an instructor of a Maine approved alcohol server education course, the instructor must teach a minimum of 4 courses during their valid certification term.
